Celebrating Selma
PILLAR OF THE CALIFORNIA SUPREME COURT HISTORICAL SOCIETY
BY KATHRYN MICKLE WERDEGAR*

To all who know her, Selma Moidel Smith is just Selma. Or perhaps “our Selma” or “the famous Selma.” And multitudes know her. Why? Because Selma is one of the most ubiquitous, treasured, talented, tireless and accomplished attorneys any of us could ever know. Admitted to the Bar January 5, 1943, she has been that way for a very long time — I’ll venture longer than most any other attorney in the state, possibly the country.

We have infinite reasons to celebrate Selma. I do so now on the occasion of her 100th birthday, which occurred on April 3. Yes, 100 years — one splendid century. Where might you find Selma these days? Certainly not reclining on the divan in her pleasant home. Maybe attending the Plácido Domingo concert at the Hollywood Bowl, accompanied on that occasion by her son, a Los Angeles architect. Perhaps attending the meeting of the National Association of Women Lawyers (NAWL) in La Jolla in February where she introduced Chief Justice Tani Cantil-Sakauye, Justice Carol Corrigan and myself for a panel on the women of the California Supreme Court. Perhaps at Stanford University for the luncheon recognizing the women in the ABA Women Trailblazers in the Law Oral History Project. Or maybe accepting an award that was created just for her, from the Fellows of the American Bar Foundation. The Fellows had to specially create the award for Selma because none of their existing awards did her justice.

But if you seriously want to find Selma, you would do well to look for her at a board meeting of the California Supreme Court Historical Society. Since being invited to join the board some 18 years ago, Selma has helped transform our low-key organization devoted to the legal history of California into a premier powerhouse of state legal history, recognized nationally for its superb Journal, California Legal History, and lively informative Newsletter, both publications elevated and for many years edited by — yes, Selma. She now devotes herself exclusively to the annual Journal, a substantive publication exploring and preserving the legal history of California, including procuring the oral histories of the justices of our Supreme Court. Most recently, the Journal has published oral histories of Justice Joe Grodin and myself. In the near future we hope to see those of others, including that of former Chief Justice Malcolm M. Lucas. In between Journal duties, Selma initiated and continues to oversee the Historical Society’s annual writing competition for law students to explore subjects relating to the history of California law. It is of course the Selma Moidel Smith Writing Competition, renamed for Selma at her 95th birthday celebration (https://www.cschs.org/programs/student-writings). But the Society doesn’t have an exclusive on that. The National Association of Women Lawyers has created its own Selma Moidel Smith Law Student Writing Competition, devoted specifically to women and the law.

This year, in recognition of her extraordinary contributions to the Historical Society, the Research Travel Grant in California Legal History was established in Selma’s honor. The grant funds will be used to defray the travel and other expenses of graduate students researching California legal history for purposes of preparing an article or other paper and who need to travel to access relevant archival materials. For more information on how to apply, see p. 20.

Law, it must be noted, is not Selma’s only talent and devotion. A gifted composer and musician and an erstwhile flamenco dancer fluent in Spanish, she is a woman of multiple talents. Indeed, her music will soon be performed at Walt Disney Concert Hall in Los Angeles, and not for the first time. When Selma was introduced at the NAWL meeting in February, we heard a brief recording of Selma playing some of her piano music, waltzes and Latin tangos, preludes and nocturnes. As the attendees applauded, to the delight and, might I say, surprise of all present, Selma rose from her chair on the dais and proceeded to dance gracefully across the stage in rhythm to her music.

* Kathryn Mickle Werdegar is associate justice of the California Supreme Court (Ret.). A version of this article appeared in the Daily Journal, March 12, 2019.
Selma’s music will be performed by the Los Angeles Lawyers Philharmonic at Disney Hall on Saturday evening, June 29.

Feliz cumpleaños, Selma, and congratulations on this splendid birthday. Heartfelt thanks from all of us who have had the privilege to know you, to work with you and to experience your energy and vision, your enthusiasm and leadership, all to the immeasurable benefit of our Historical Society and every organization you have ever been a part of. We celebrate you.

Research Travel Grant in California Legal History

The California Supreme Court Historical Society has established a Research Travel Grant, funded by the generosity of California Supreme Court Justice Kathryn Mickle Werdegar (Ret.) and David M. Werdegar, M.D., in honor of Selma Moidel Smith, editor-in-chief of California Legal History.

Pursuant to this grant, the Society will defray the expenses of graduate students and law students at accredited U.S. universities and law schools who are researching California legal history for purposes of preparing an article or other paper on that subject and need to travel to access archival materials related thereto. It is expected that most travel will be to or within California, but exceptions will be made in the case of relevant archival materials in other locations. The Society will award individual grants to be used to defray the cost of travel and/or accommodation in amounts typically no more than $700 per project, with a maximum of $1,000 in special cases.

Grants will be awarded on a rolling basis until such time as the fund for the grant is exhausted. Grant applications must include the following information:

- A brief description of the project that necessitates the travel, identifying the specific archival collection or collections that the grantee wishes to access;
- An itemized estimate of the expenses associated with the research trip, which reflect economical choices of travel and accommodation;
- A statement whether the applicant intends to enter the resulting paper in the Society’s Selma Moidel Smith Student Writing Competition in California Legal History;
- A copy of the applicant’s curriculum vitae; and
- A brief letter of recommendation from a person familiar with the applicant’s scholarly work.

Applicants should send materials by e-mail or conventional mail to: Professor Reuel Schiller, University of California, Hastings College of the Law, 200 McAllister Street, San Francisco, CA 94706; schiller@uchastings.edu.

Grant applications will be expeditiously reviewed by a three-person review committee of faculty from differing institutions and must be approved by a unanimous vote. For complete grant information, see https://www.cschs.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/02/CSCHS-California-Legal-History-Research-Travel-Grant-121018.pdf.

Applicants are encouraged to enter the Society’s Selma Moidel Smith Student Writing Competition in California Legal History (https://www.cschs.org/programs/student-writings), and are also advised that publishable works resulting from this grant will be considered for inclusion in the Society’s annual journal, California Legal History.

Would you like to write for us?

The Newsletter warmly welcomes articles on California legal history, particularly involving the California Supreme Court and the state’s lower courts, the bar and the profession. We publish articles about the people, cases, and broader legal developments as they have affected our state, then and now.

Because we are a newsletter for a relatively broad audience, not an academic journal, please go easy on the legal jargon and citations. Most of our articles are in the 1,000- to 2,500-word range (although we’re flexible on length), and illustrated with photographs and/or archival material (we’ll handle that part). Submissions must be in Word.

Note to State Bar members: You can receive up to 12.5 hours of MCLE credit for “self-study,” including time spent to research and write, as provided in the California State Bar Rules, Rule 2.83.

So please send me your ideas. And if you don’t have an article in mind at the moment but would like to see your name in print, I’ll happily give you an assignment.

Please query Newsletter Editor at molly.selvin@gmail.com. I look forward to hearing from you.
